

Celeste Landa — If one is looking for professional training away from competitive Manhattan, then BdA is your top choice. Each student is given individualized attention and they will graduate having obtained the principles needed for a professional career in dance.